

Deathly Hallows String Art

A perfect room decor

The supplies you'll need are:

A wooden board

Nails

Tape

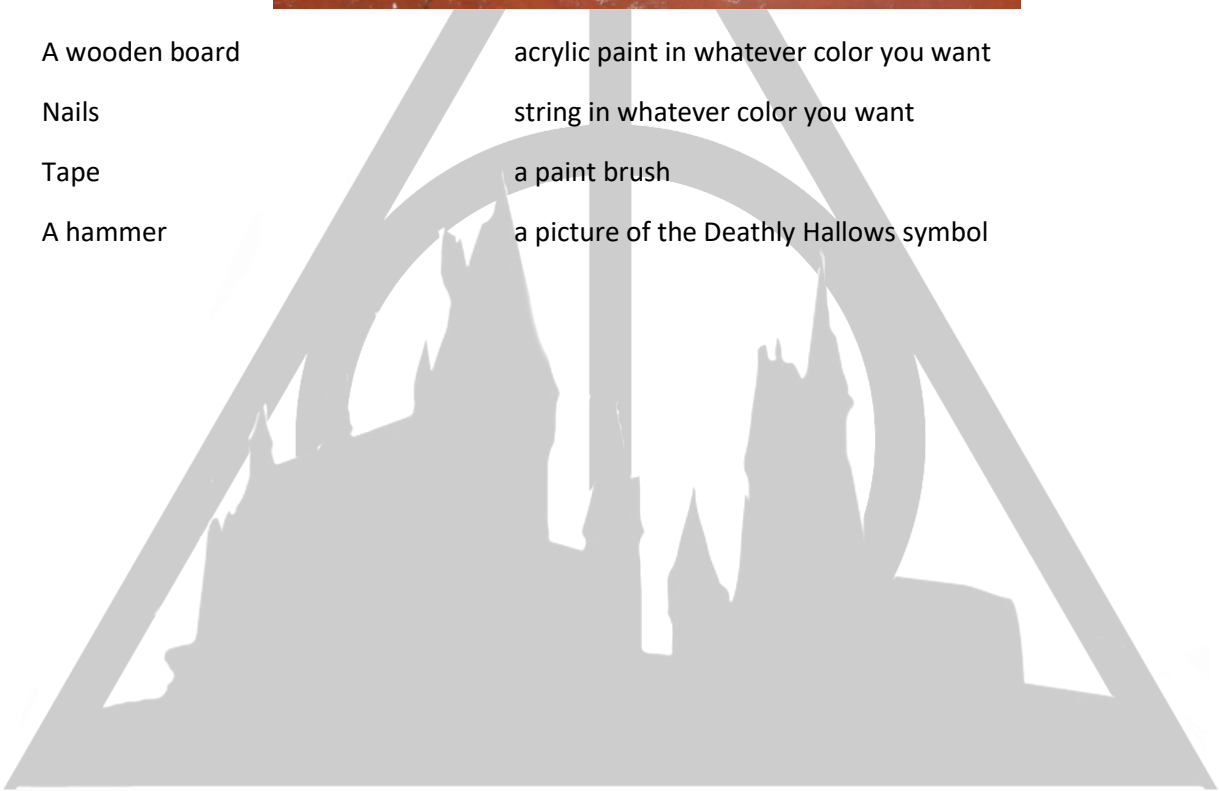

A hammer

acrylic paint in whatever color you want string in whatever color you want a paint brush

First you want to paint your wooden board in the color you want and let it dry.
Add as many coats of white paint until your happy with how it looks.

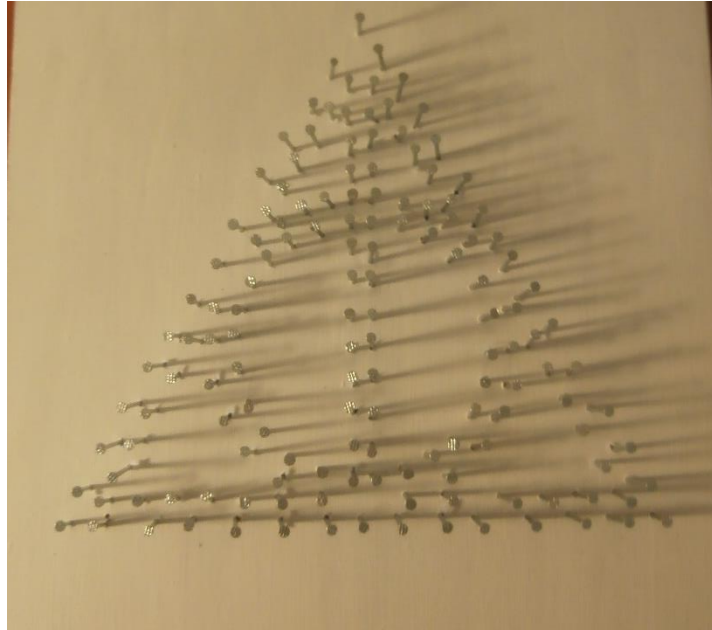

When the paint is dry grab your Deathly Hallows symbol and place it on the wood and decide where you want the symbol (top, bottom, middle). (to prevent the picture to move when you start with the nails tape it down on the wood)

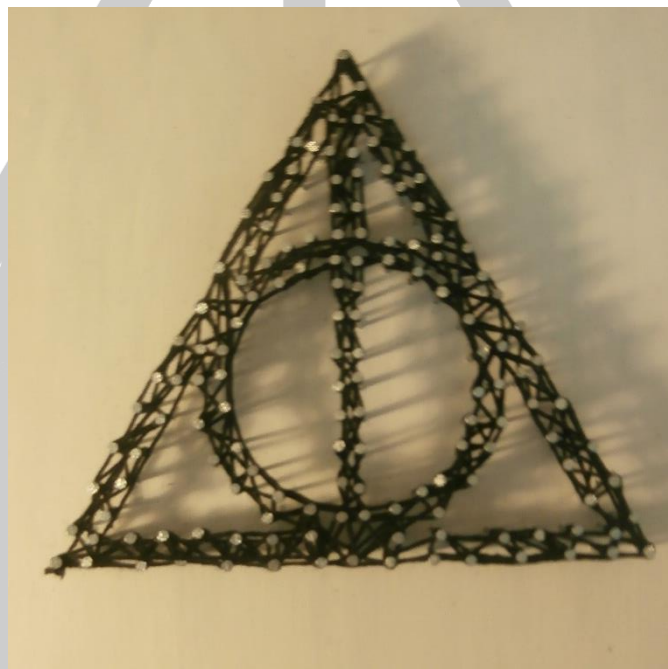

Then start with placing nails in every corner of the symbol.

After placing nails in every corner you can start to place nails along the whole symbol.

After your done with all the nails carefully remove the picture and your left with the Deathly hallows symbol in nails.

Grab your string and start with outlining the symbol by following the nails. After that you can go criss cross until your happy with how it looks. (don't forget to go around the nail so the string stays in place when you go to another nail)

When your happy with how it looks make a not around one of the nails and cut away the excess string.

Now your string art is done. You can find the image that I used on the blog

Have fun making this string art!
