

Harry Potter potions

This DIY is super fun to make and it is a great room decoration or decoration for a party.

DIY - Harry Potter

The supplies you'll need are:

10 miniature bottles

clear glue

grey decoration sand

A small glass pot

food coloring (pink, blue, green and purple)

labels

Tooth picks

acrylic paint (black white and gold)

hot glue gun

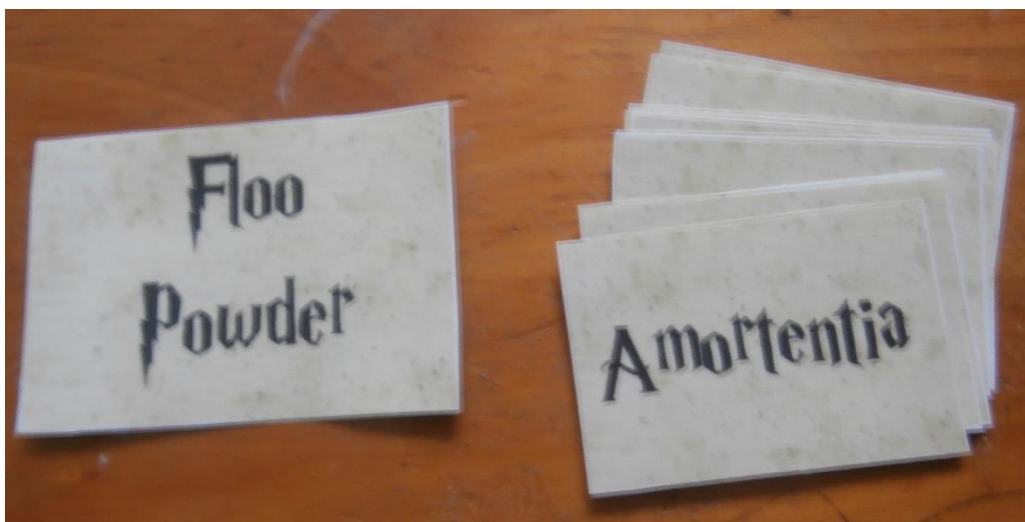

Glitters

candle and matches

glue sticks

DIY - Harry Potter

So first you want to cut out you're labels

Light the candle and burn of the edges of the labels so that they look a little older. Be careful because the paper burs really fast and you could burn it too far and be careful to not burn yourself.

DIY - Harry Potter

Amortentia

To make Amortentia you'll need a miniature bottle, glue, pink silver and white glitter, pink food coloring, tooth picks and the label.

Fill your bottle half way with glue and add a tiny bit of pink food coloring.

Then add your pink, silver and white glitter and mix it add more glue and more glitter until your bottle is filled to the top. Put the cork back on the bottle.

Unicorn blood

To make unicorn blood you'll need a miniature bottle, glue, pink purple blue and silver glitter, tooth picks and the label

Fill the bottle half way up with glue and add all your glitters. Fill the bottle up to the top with glue and add more glitter until the bottle is full. Put the cork back on the bottle.

Veritaserum

To make Veritaserum you'll need a miniature bottle, glue and the label.

Fill the bottle all the way up with glue and put the cork back on the bottle.

Wolfsbane

To make wolfsbane you'll need a miniature bottle, glue, blue food coloring, tooth picks and the label.

Fill the bottle half way up with glue and add a little bit of blue food coloring and mix it. Fill the bottle all the way up with glue and put the cork back on the bottle.

Floo Powder

To make Floo powder you'll need a small glass pot, grey decoration sand (or a lot of silver glitter) and the label.

Fill the jar up with the grey deration sand. I also added a bit of silver glitter but that is optional.

When you're done with making all of the potion and floo powder you can add the labels with your hot glue gun. You can also add your labels when you've made a potion.

Now all your potions are done! You can find the labels that I used on the blog.

Have fun making these potion!

(Tip: later on I saw that the glitter sank to the bottom of the bottle I saw in a video that you can add some gel (for styling your hair) and the glitter won't sink to the bottom that easily. I did that and I actually worked so before you add your glitter to the potion add a little bit of gel and mix it with the glue.)
