

Bertie Bott

Bertie Bott

He invented Bertie Bott's Every-Flavour Beans quite by mistake. His original purpose was to create tasty sweets from food. After an accident during his experiment, he recognized the sales potential of flavours that range from delicious to disgusting, including marshmallow, tutti-frutti, grass, soap and earwax.