First you want to choose which pins you want to make.

Then grab your shrink plastic and your chosen pin and trace it with you permanent marker.

When you traced al your pins cut them out.

Follow the instructions of your shrink plastic and let them shrink.

After you've let them cool down start with painting your pins.

Add as much coats of paint as you need so when you hold the pin in the light you can't see through it any more.

After the paint is fully dry add the brooch pin with your hot glue gun or any type of strong glue.

And now your pins are done! You can find the templates that I made on my blog, I made one in black and white so you can trace it over and one in colors.

Have fun making these pins!
